Soniclean is proud to announce Avance Clinical as the winner of the International Health Award at the Business SA 2019 Export Awards.

As a major sponsor, Soniclean is thrilled to be able to celebrate South Australian exporting excellence by sponsoring the International Health Award and its recognition of Avance Clinical, which progresses to the national final in Canberra on 3 December.

The Business SA 2019 Export Awards recognise South Australian companies which are excelling in the international marketplace by selling and promoting their products and services, including our award's winner, Avance Clinical.

Announced at a gala ceremony at the Adelaide Convention Centre last night, Avance Clinical was recognised as providing world-class clinical research services to the local and international drug development industry, with clients across North America, Canada, New Zealand, Europe and Asia.

Avance Clinical assists its clients in conducting and reporting of clinical trial data to ensure they meet their drug development timelines.

Now in their 57th year, the Business SA Export Awards recognise local businesses breaking into export markets and achieving sales, organisational and educational growth.

The coveted Business SA 2019 South Australian Exporter of the Year Award went to aquaculture business Clean Seas Seafood, as this year's most outstanding exporting business. Accolade Wines was presented with the Statewide Excellence in Exporting Award, recognising international impact.

Other major award winners included Redarc Electronics, the University of Adelaide, Rising Sun Pictures, Monkeystack, Zonge Engineering and Research Organisation, Wines by Geoff Hardy, Haselgrove Wines, Sentek, Prophecy International Holdings, Mollydooker Wines and Supashock.

Soniclean is among the world's foremost manufacturers of innovative medical grade ultrasonic cleaners, with more than two decades of leadership experience in the ultrasonic industry. Soniclean ultrasonic cleaners provide a faster, safer alternative to conventional cleaning methods.

Having a strong export market is critical to growing South Australia's economy, and Soniclean, along with Avance Clinical, are ensuring our state goes from strength to strength.
